25,000 Dead and 100,000 Injured By the Earthquake In Italy--Russians Achieve a Great Victory Over Turks--German Newspapers Are Alarmed Over the Food Shortage--The Allies Continue Their Successes In the West

STILL STRUGGLING HARD TO REGAIN LOST GROUND

Von Kluck Continues Heavy Assaults Around Soissons.

Quiet On Both Wings--No Change On Eastern Front.

(By Times Special Cable.)

London, Jan. 15.—The violent German attack to the north of Soissons, under the direction of General Von Kluck, which, coupled with a flood stage of the river, has forced the French back across the Aisne, is the most striking news of the last 24 hours from the seat of war. The Germans have been gaining in this locality for several days, but they had not recovered all of the ground lost by them. This engagement north of Soissons is the first notable fighting in the vicinity since last September, when the British army, which subsequently was transferred to Belgium, was successful in crossing the Aisne.

Now in the Vosges Mountains and floods in Flanders still prevent any extensive operations on the eastern or the western wings, and to observers here it appears as though the Soissons district had been selected for the point where, with reinforcement and first-line troops, the Germans are planning to display once more the hammering tactics so familiar during the autumn. On the other hand, some war experts argue that the operations at Soissons may have been undertaken to compel the allies to lessen the pressure in Alsace.

BALKANS ALL FOR ALLIES

(By Times Special Cable.)

London, Jan. 15.—The Daily Mail's home correspondent telegraphs:

"The mission to Rome of Mr. Gladstone, recently Minister in Constantinople, intended here as an indication of a change in the attitude of Bulgaria, who, in the presence of a close union between Romania and Italy, wish to approach these two Powers, and a tributary power, Greece, for a alliance to the Balkan nations against Turkey, Austria and Germany. Mr. Gladstone, after concluding his journeys here, will proceed to Paris and to London."

ITALIAN HORROR EQUALS MESSINA CATASTROPHE

News Comes Slowly, and Close Figures Cannot Be Had.

Quake Extended Even Into the Alpine District.

(By Times Special Cable.)

Rome, Jan. 15.—News from the earthquake-stricken districts of Italy still comes in slowly, but enough is known to show that the disaster closely approaches that which befell Messina six years ago. Estimates of the killed and injured vary from 25,000 to 50,000, and it will probably be days before exact figures are available.

Avezzano, sixty miles east of Rome, and Sora, fifteen miles south of Avellino were the worst sufferers, but as far as loss of life is concerned, but about sixty towns and villages in all suffered either total demolition or serious damage.

Reports to-day from the north say the shock was felt as far as the Swiss frontier, and that in the Alps in that region there were numerous avalanches, the result of the earthquake. This would make it appear that the earthquake extended throughout the entire length of Italy, with the exception of the extreme southern end.

ITALIANS MOURN

Many Local Residents Came From Zone of Disaster.

Interpreter Taylor stated this morning that there were a large number of Italians in this city from Galiciano, one of the Italian cities devastated by the earthquake. "Many have called home," said Taylor. "They are not returning to their homes, but the Italian Consulate here has taken care of them. They are staying at 76 Walnut street, and was completely broken up last evening after the news.

Mr. Elias Haylock yesterday afternoon received a communication from the Imperial War Office stating that the results of his marriage to his first marriage, Sydney Hall, who enlisted with the Royal Engineers, London, for active service in the outbreak of hostilities. Mrs. Haylock has sent four of her sons to the front, of whom this one has been killed. The other three are still in the firing line. Another son is serving in the Royal Artillery, and a fourth son is now drilling at the armories in this city.

Another son, Mr. Haylock, is serving in the Royal Engineers, and a fifth son, Mr. Haylock, is serving in the Royal Artillery.

"Not at all," said Mr. Felton. "Indeed, I have such a strong imagination that I could picture to myself the comfort of this comfortable room and glorious fire, and that shall serve me until I go to sleep. And now, good night."

Stella held out her hand, reluctantly, and looked across the room.

"I am," she said, falteringly, "could we not send two men with a mattress to bring the messenger here? Mr. Felton will be greatly obliged if you would consent to that."

Mr. Felton bowed.

"Indeed, the rest of the Christmas season will be a quiet one."

During their absence Mrs. Newton had been so much occupied in the care of the house that she had not been occupied by the master of "Heavy-thorn" that she had no time to go to the station to meet the train, and the voyagers returned, bringing the lame man with them.

Stella arose to go to him, but he was near the table, bent over and almost whispered:

"Have you known Sir Richard, with whom I have been?"

"No," answered Stella, with so evident a desire to be frank that she justified her conduct by the question she was asking her:

"Do you not like him?"

"Indeed, you should be a judge of him," said Sir Richard, with another of his peculiar smiles.

Stella arose to go to him, but he was near the table, bent over and almost whispered:

"Have you known Sir Richard, with whom I have been?"

"No," answered Stella, with so evident a desire to be frank that she justified her conduct by the question she was asking her:

"Do you not like him?"

"Indeed, you should be a judge of him," said Sir Richard, with another of his peculiar smiles.

Stella arose to go to him, but he was near the table, bent over and almost whispered:

"Have a bad one," breathed Stella, "and not to be trusted!"

He was a young man of rather forlorn appearance, and he looked rather tightly compressed, as if the suppression of some intense emotion were upon him.

He was greatly troubled, though especially by the fact that he had been made to think of a woman with him, and the thought of her left him rather chilled, but genuinely.

"Here we are," said Mr. Felton, as he entered the room, followed by his cook, "and I think our friend will do if he be put to bed and has his rest. He is a little thin, but his health is good, and he has a well-bred poise; when they touched upon himself and his affairs he was more reserved."

Presently the cousins having arrived from Springfield, Stella found herself standing before the door of the room, a little apart from the rest, beside a man in armor.

He was seated at the pictures, and she, too, on the impulse of the moment, said in a low voice:

"You are an artist, Mr. Felton?"

"Yes, I am, but, I smiled down upon her, faintly."

"I am a sculptor."

"I thought so," she said, in a low voice:

"Why?" he asked in a low voice.

"Because—she hesitated. She decided not to tell him of the sea nymph at the Countess of Dovewell's."

"She does not know what the countess must be only a fancy of hers, or, at the most, a coincidence."

"Well, I may not always be compelled to tell her reasons," she said, returning her smile.

"Never," he said. "But I am curious to know what you discovered it to be. I am a sculptor; a very poor one, I am afraid."

"I am like your art."

"I love it," he replied. "Which is fortunate, as I get my bread by it."

She decided to tell him a curious secret, in her estimation, he had gained by that fact.

TO-DAY'S WAR NEWS.

The most notable war news to-day is the success of the German attack on the French in the neighborhood of Soissons, some thirty miles from Paris. Violent fighting has been going on for days now, and yesterday the enemy succeeded in driving the French across the River Aisne. The French explanation is that this is the river because it flooded with the rains that it was feared some of the bridges might be carried away, thus leaving the men in the trenches without support. This may be so, but the fact remains that the Germans have gained considerable ground here and France may have to sacrifice a lot of men in regaining what it has lost. It is said that Von Kluck, aided by the Kaiser, is now in command here.

The British are reported to have met with success in the vicinity of Basse, capturing some 1,000 prisoners and advancing about a mile. Other news matters are quiet along the coast.

In the East, Gen. Hindenburg is using his heavy artillery against the Russians in the centre before Warsaw, without much success. Some 10,000 Russian troops are pouring into East Prussia, being now well across the border.

There is no doubt that the Germans are becoming more active and more violent in their attacks. It is evident that in the war especially they are bringing heavy reinforcements. The Germans are anxious, no doubt, to make a killing before spring arrives with Kitchener's army. The Kaiser's plans are all made with a view to keep the enemy out of the Falkland Islands. It is probable that the British fighters at Scapa Flow will object in view of slackening the French advance in Upper Alsace. But France has enough strong troops in the field to look after both operations.

THE NICKEL QUESTION.

Does Canadian nickel, which is declared absolute contraband by the British Government, find its way into Germany? The question is not easy to answer. Sir Edward Grey's note to the United States note that the large imports from the States of copper and mineral countries, but make no mention of nickel, nor have we seen any figures bearing on the matter. We understand that the German Government has received assurances from the nickel companies that none of the product is reaching Germany. But the question can be asked for what it is worth. The question principally confined to the Far East World, that the export of Canadian nickel should be prohibited, meets with the opposition of the development companies. In November, Germany has taken no notice of the agitation. It is clear that the British Government does not ask for the stoppage of its export because it does not want further to antagonize the United States Government. The suggestion is made that this is done by nationalization, so that the profit of private gain should be eliminated from the business. The Government would then have the master in its own hands and would be able to see that no one was disposed of that could by any chance get to Germany.

Whichever way the Dominion Government may have on the subject, we think that it should take the people into its confidence. Nothing should be allowed to happen in this country that can bring comfort to Germany, no matter what private interests are at stake. Both Robert Borden and the Hon. H. H. Harcourt should speak out on this subject. Silence merely aggravates the situation, and leads to suspicion that neither the Dominion nor Provincial Government is acting in the public interest.

USING THE PRESS.

On the other hand, there are no farmers who are not close friends of the local newspapermen. The method of the editor, The Financial Post, is methodical for the best agriculturists to prepare a series of articles to keep the public informed in these local papers. By this method, every farmer—not a few—in Canada will be inspired and taught how best to increase production and profits of the farm. The editor should be supported, by bulletins of text books, mailed only on request, and by lectures when a sufficient number of farmers show enough interest to sign a requisition for their attendance.

The Financial Post of Canada is the proposal made good for the newspapers. Possibly a few more subscribers might be got if such talk were published daily or weekly. But that would only be a mere bagatelle.

The Dominion and Provincial Government should do more to draw the newspapers to give their space in drawing the attention of the farmers and others to this experiment—and that experiment and to the activities of this and that institution that compliance with these demands make a big demand on the space at the disposal of the press. To such an extent has this been, that we believe the Canadian Press Association should give the matter its stamp of approval. Were the Government to pay for the insertion of these talks there might be no objection to the proposal. Does the Post contemplate running these talks as deadheads or as paid matter?

THE LOSS OF SHIPS.

The sinking of the Formidable, with some brave and trained men on board, is a loss that is hard to get over—harder than any due to the calamity. The Bulwark was the first battleship officially announced to have been lost during the war, on either side, with the possible exception of the German Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which was sunk in 1914.

It is the loss of the allies now stand at 30 vessels, of a total tonnage of perhaps 150,000. Germany and her allies lost 50 vessels, of a total tonnage of over 95,000. These losses exemplify the value of what used to be called a margin of security in naval incidents, which is given in the table. The margin of safety which both sides are acting on the defensive, is a serious matter. It is an item which was never reckoned in the days before the war, in the statistical comparisons which were the fashion. Eighty ships of all classes have gone in four months, during which there has been no general engagement.

In so far as Great Britain is concerned the new ships coming into commission number enough to maintain and to increase the relative strength of the fleet as it stood at the beginning of August. And it is also to be remembered that the main fleet of the enemy has remained in harbor, whereas the British fleet has been at sea.

The amount of money expended upon the German navy in the last ten years, from 1905 to 1914, is estimated in the German Nautische—the semi-official naval annual—at £189,275,000. The reported figure for the German navy at the beginning of the war was 475,000. As the estimated reason for the building of the German navy is to insure the mercantile marine the German nation may now contemplate the fact that they have had over $250 per ton for insurance, and have lost their mercantile marine into the bargain.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Has the war made you rich?

Why not try New York with some of those debauches? Montreal is selling some there.

We have yet to learn that the G. T. P. directors are dissatisfied with the way the road was built.

German hate of Britain is said to be unbelievable, so let us leave it. What's that about loving your enemies?

The pro-Germans are still using the Canadian mails to distribute their literature here. What we need now is a P. O. censor to fumigate the mails.

"The casualties in Italy caused by the earthquake are reckoned all the way from 20,000 to 100,000. In either case the suffering must be enormous. The property damage also is great."

Though protesting that there should be no general parliamentary election before the end of January, the Liberal party in Canada is quite a number of cases are selecting candidates and outlining their plans for a contest, says the Montreal Advertiser. That is because the Liberal party has not yet decided whether it will make the country as neutral as possible.

Rober Rogers may spring an election on the country.

The London Free Press is in better business than trying to make political capital out of the war. It is anxious to show that the Advertiser is disloyal or that it is opposed to Canada giving all the help she can to the mother country. Is it good policy to attempt to prove what is not true—that the Grims are a disloyal crowd?

We do not think that much surprise need be expressed because it costs more to keep a patient at the City Hospital than to feed him. The cost of a meal, usually on request, and by lecture, when a sufficient number of patients show enough interest to sign a requisition for their attendance.

Mr. Joseph Martin, K. C. in fighting Joe, was one of the also rans in the Vancouver fight for the mayoralty. Mr. Martin is still member for St. Paul's, and he is a member of the Canadian Press Association.

Were the Government to pay for the insertion of these talks there might be no objection to the proposal. Does the Post contemplate running these talks as deadheads or as paid matter?

PRISONER IN GERMANY SENDS A CARD HOME

Archdeacon Irving, of Dundas, Gets a Card From David Millington.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

For the Seventy-Seventh Conti-gent—Annual Meeting of Horticultural Society.

Dundas, Jan. 15.—The Sons of Scott and will hold their annual celebration of Burns' Day on Feb. 11.
David Millington, Jr., is improving, still in the hospital. He expects to return to town next week.
Rev. Archdeacon Irving recently received a note from David Millington, the Dundas business man who is a citizen prisoner in Germany. The card is dated, in German, authorities had printed mostly in English. Apart from regulation music, there is nothing more to say. No remarks are made as to his health or condition.

For the 77th Contingent is proceeding well and already several men have been accepted and are now busy drilling. Mr. T. J. offered Taylor is the recruiting officer.
T. J. Taylor, the Bishop's Chaplain, will be present; to-morrow matines
"Thor and Orange Blossoms," and
on Saturday, W. S. Holland, of Dundas,
and Capt. Carpenter, of Galt, will speak.
The 77th Contingent is recommended by Col.
John C. Scott, of Galt, as officers for the third contingent.

The Dundas Choral Society made their recent production of "Cleopatra" and will speak at the Lyric
this evening. Alice Joyce, the picture star, and Strand war pictures as the feature attractions. Both pictures always take well for the "Bishop's Chaplain" will be present; to-morrow matines
"Thor and Orange Blossoms," and
on Saturday, W. S. Holland, of Dundas,
and Capt. Carpenter, of Galt, will speak.

F. G. Austin will speak at the Lyric
this evening. Alice Joyce, the picture star, and Strand war pictures as the feature attractions. Both pictures always take well for

Admirers of burlesque will certainly find all the requirements that go to make up a really first class attraction in the "Cherry Girl" which opened at the Savoy next week. The brand new touring musical comedy from New York is something of great interest. It features "Jimmy Valentine," something out of the ordinary will be offered in the vivacious offering of the Master Drama School known as "The Boy Paderewski," while Louise Lippich and others will be present. The show has been appearing with great success at Shea's theatre, Toronto, this week.

THE AVERAGE WORST VICTIM.— Avaziano is the chief sufferer from the earthquake, according to reports from the Italian people. He showed his deep interest and sympathy yesterday in an unusual visit with the telegraph and telephone lines are generally down in that district, but it has been assumed that no loss of life has occurred there.

The little news that has come through from the frontier regions is that the rescuers are working night and day in an endeavor to reach the task of seeking their relatives, who had been buried under the ruins of houses.

From Courmayeur, Italy, through telescopes, an avalanche was seen falling on the town of Avaziano, and Italian troops, who returned to Astesa, report that they felt the shock, and saw an avalanche fall from the mountains.
A report from Innsbruck states that in the Alps, near the Italian frontier, 27 soldiers were overwhelmed by an avalanche, and that three of the men were buried.

RUSTIC WORK AT AVEZZANO.—
London, Jan. 15.—Rescuers working by torchlight pulled all night amid the ruins of Avaziano, a fine vauteville programme, and costumes are most elaborate. There are several excellent musical numbers, including a complete afternoon of large choruses of pretty singing and dancing girls. A feature with this splendid attraction will be a series of short scenes and this evening picture. There is a good advance sale for the performances to-morrow
by "The Winans."

ALL BRANCHES OF THE MILITIA ARE VERY BUSY

Five Class of Men Taken On By Highlanders for the Third Contingent.

MORE HOWITZERS

We Will Be Taken On to Join the Battery Now at Toronto
Camp.

There is no cessation to activities of local military companies. The recruiting for the third militia contingent has been still more intensive. Last night the second class rang with the steady sound of guns of hundred of feet. Non-commissioned officers gave instructions to the raw men, and the hundreds stood to guard at the gate and challenges. Only those old pros or who were members of the parades were allowed to enter.

Highlander and Thirteenth

Regiments were at work in the center of the floor, and it was there that I had to find my lot of young Artillerymen, both physically and mentally fit. The majority had never been affiliated with any army, and three tried the pattern of the most patient instructor. A com-

a wild scramble and stumble to get back in place, and listen while the officer tapped him on the shoulder with information as which was right and left. While

I laughed good-naturedly at the inexperienced, I could feel the strong undercurrent of grim earnestness that dominated. The old standards were over, and out went the more difficult drills and acquitted themselves in a highly creditable manner.

At one end could be seen a number of men energetically waving their rifles, and in another section they were busy wheeling their instruments of death from position to position, learning how to sight and load, and the intricate mechanism.

The gunners, the Engineers up in their quarters, alternately shouting and writing to the illustrated address by telegraph, and answered.

The buglers of regiments were practising.

Men of the 13th were at the gate rifle range.

Over, over, over, we went, and over, over, over, we marched.

At one end we were examined

by the medical examiners,

and the other by the dental experts.

THIS BEGGER DREW A KNIFE WHEN REFUSED

Edward Jones Being Held While His Character is Being Investigated.

VERY SAD CASE

Woman With Babe in Arms Sues Her Husband for Non-Support.

Blissfully unconscious of the tragedy that was taking place in his parents' lives Baby Leah nestled in his mother's arms and dozed at the Magistrate in court this morning. Mrs. Leath accused her husband, William H. Jones, of being drunk and when he had got her out a week ago, the husband realized that his wife had gone out, and was in the habit of going out and leaving him to his own means. He said that he could not afford to stay away from him and thought that it was enough. The magistrate thought so also, although he was asked for $100 with which to start riding with wonderment in the blue eyes the mother left the court.

The man was accused by George Hawison with threatening to cut and wound. The magistrate adjourned the case to the police station on the street last evening and asked for money. When his request was refused, Hawison who was drunk, pleaded guilty and was remanded until his character can be investigated.

For the guilty of the theft of a street car conductor's change in a pool room a short time ago George Hawison was sentenced to one month in jail. The performance was looked up and it was found that he had no previous conviction against him.

Sullivan admitted being slightly bore de combat through drink yesterday afternoon when he hopped into a car and would. The man was charged with having been drunk when he was looking for his work as an employee of the railway station, but John was being held in custody.

John was doing the or the option of going to the Ogiville for ten long days.

For the theft of the chest of a cheese from Arthur Lambert, Harry Price, who was brought here from Niagara Falls young man, was arrested in connection with the theft a short time ago, but they were allowed to go on their way.

Mary Ann Kosciuk and Mary Blasiek were again remanded until January 22nd when they will be tried for the theft of some coal from the G. T. R. but Dr. Shuckman stated that Mary Blasiek could not appear.

TWO ACCIDENTS

Charles Sharp Fell Down an Elevator Shaft.

Charles Sharp, 25 East street, was a victim of an unfortunate accident at the E. T. Wright factory yesterday afternoon. He walked into an open elevator shaft and fell two flights, sustaining a fractured leg and arm. He was taken to the hospital where his injuries were attended to, and he was pronounced to be out of danger.

Harry Catts was seriously injured around the head and arm when he was caught in a door at the E. T. Wright factory on the street. He was taken to the hospital, where it was found that his injuries were only of a minor nature.

HYDRO AFFAIRS

Chairman Ellis On Power Cost, Radials and Telephones.

Chairman Willoughby Ellis of the Hydro Department, had a thoughtful announcement yesterday.

He explained that the technical manager, Engineer E. L. Sifton, and the staff were now engaged in preparing a statement for the Provincial Commission, which will show that the hydro project was being managed more economically than any other power source in the city.

Hydro officials offered to give the Provincial Hydro authorities the power to sell Hydro cheaper than other municipalities. We are not yet in a position to do this, Chairman Ellis added.

For power to sell Hydro cheaper than other municipalities, we are not yet in a position to do this, Chairman Ellis added.

PROF. WRONG NEXT THURSDAY.

A large number was disappointed last evening at St. John's Presbyterian Church when Prof. Wragg, of Toronto University, gave his celebrated lecture on "Why the War Came." The audience was too large for the hall over indefinitely. It was listed for arbitration before His Honour Justice J. M. Macmillan, who will give his lecture. The latter will be good news to those who have been waiting for the lecture to be given. The city took part of the property for severer purposes.

GLANFORD CHURCH.

An open service and concert in connection with St. Paul's Church, Glanford, will be held on Jan. 26th, in the town hall. The Lawrie brothers and other talent will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Sharpe and other talent will be present.

IMPETUS ANNOUNCEMENT.

Those who need wall paper, now, or will need any during the year, will do well to frequent Son's. The firm has made the back page. Their stock is well known as being a select one, comprising the best decorative styles, all at reasonable prices. Don't miss this golden opportunity of getting good things at low prices. Note terms of sale.

TEA TABLE GOSSIP

Ex-Controller C. G. Bird is recovering from a very severe attack of grippe.

Hoodoo contest at Alderman Rick's. Come and buy your lottery ticket. Hoodoo is more popular than ever.

The local political department are receipt of a letter from the Reformer, stating that Martin Orlovic, Edgar Dakos and Joe Cade escaped from the reform wing of the prison. These boys are all over 18 years of age.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS

The new hospital comes high, but we must have it.

The Trades and Labor Council might tell me what I want to know, but I don't suppose it would endorse it there is no use in me taking it up.

If the City Hall employees promise to be good Mayor Wallen will put any of them down.

The third contingent should be lined up and running over by this time.

I am waiting for the first man to come in and tell me that he has seen a robin.

There are my sidewalkers here and there in the city, what's the fine for that, Mr. Chief?

I am not an advertising agent for any dress manufacturer. I read of some deaths especially and am convinced that it would be a paying proposition to handle it as an agent once in a while. Why isn't yourself be advertising it? You might make out when the lamp of life burning?

Yes, that purchasing agent idea is good and it would need only $10,000 man either.

I ran across a man the other day who was still hanging on to New Year resolutions. I must get him an iron cross.

To see a boy who lifts his hat to his sister when she meets him on the street, and who gives you a lot of good merit. Pass this around.

To what Home Guard company do you belong?

Burlington is getting cheap advertising out of the bay shore route.

How many idle men do we have in the city now? Only -

Home Chats—Good for today: "Care with fire" is good advice, we know.

Careful with words is ten times better.

Thoughts unexpressed may sometimes fall back dead.

"I can't kill them when they're mad,"—W. Carlton.

ICE HARVEST

Will Begin in Three Weeks and Employ 400 Men.

In three weeks' time four hundred of the city's unemployed will have the opportunity of helping rather than hindering the ice harvest. A. E. Best, assistant manager of the firm of E. A. Best, and the staff were now engaged in preparing a statement for the Provincial Commission, which will show that the hydro project was being managed more economically than any other power source in the city.

Harry Catts was seriously injured around the head and arm when he was caught in a door at the E. T. Wright factory on the street. He was taken to the hospital, where it was found that his injuries were only of a minor nature.
